

HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

Established March 4, 1885, and Made Famous in the Celebrated Story of "Jonathan and His Continent," by Max O'Rell.

SPENCER COOPER, Owner and Editor.

"Of a Noisy World, With News From All Nations Limping at His Back."

$1.00 A YEAR, Always in Advance.

TENTH YEAR.

HAZEL GREEN, WOLFE COUNTY, KY., THURSDAY, MAY 10, 1894.

NUMBER 7.

A BIG DROP.

When you come to Lexington drop in and see us, and we will show you the biggest stock of CLOTHING.

Hats and Furnishings for Men and Boys—Wholesale and Retail—you ever saw.

If you can't come write to us and tell us what you want.

Men's Suits from $5 up.

Boys' Suits from $1.25 up.

You will make more than your expenses, though, if you come in person and make your selections.

ONE PRICE CLOTHING HOUSE,

M. KAUFMAN & CO.

LEXINGTON, KY.

MERCHANTS' JOB LOT HOUSE,

WHOLESALE ONLY.

137 and 139 Race Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Big Drives in CLOTHING, SHOES, HATS, ETC.

Send for our Price List.

H. & G. FEEDER, PRICES

165 & 167 Race Street, CINCINNATI, O.

The leading house for FANCY DRY GOODS, FURNISHING GOODS and NOTIONS. Always have Big Drives. Special attention to Mail Orders.

TRADERS DEPOSIT BANK,

MT. STERLING, KY.

CAPITAL, $200,000. SURPLUS, $30,000.

J. M. BIGSTAFF, President.

G. L. KIRKPATRICK, Vice President.

W. W. THOMPSON, Cashier.

We respectfully inform our merchants, traders and business men generally throughout Eastern Kentucky, A general banking business done. Give us a chance to send you a bank book, pay your checks, and loan you money when in need.

W. W. THOMPSON, Cashier.

Clay City National Bank,

CLAY CITY, KY.

Capital.....$50,000.

FLOYD DAY, President. J. F. COX, Cashier.

No Bank in Eastern Kentucky has better vaults, nor better facilities for keeping your account. Managed entirely by home people who know you and who are always ready to accommodate you.

Money to loan on reasonable rates.

Call on us.

Clark County National Bank

MAIN STREET, WINCHESTER, KY.

JOHN W. BEAN, President.

B. F. CURTIS, Cashier.

Capital, $200,000. Surplus, $100,000.

Undivided Profits, $25,000.

Organized 1865, being the oldest bank in the county. Collections made on all points, and your business solicited.

Winchester : Bank,

WINCHESTER, KY.

N. H. WITHERSPOON, President.

R. D. HUNTER, Cashier.

Paid up Capital, $200,000.00.

Surplus, $60,000.00.

This Bank solicits the accounts of merchants, farmers, traders and business men generally throughout Eastern Kentucky, and offers its customers every facility, and the most favorable terms within the legitimate banking.

1881 v

VICTOR & BOGAERT,

Manufacturing  Jeweler,

17 E. Short Street,

LEXINGTON, KY.

Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry. Reliable Goods. Fair Dealing and Bottom Prices. All Goods and Work Guaranteed.

Where Does the Responsibility Rest.

The financial and business condition of the country seems to be growing worse. Manufacturing and other enterprises are closing each day with almost the same regularity that the sun sets. The people, and especially farmers and working classes are at arrest. They seem disinterested, discontented and broken up. Thousands are without bread and employment and clamoring for something with which to sooth their ills. We have desperation, anxiety, murmuring, and almost universal class.

What is the cause of the complex situation? Who is to blame?

If any class, what? If individuals, what?

If a political party, which?

Where does the responsibility rest?

Some attribute it to the political parties. The Democrats say the Republicans are responsible.

Republicans are equally as pronounced in their belief that the Democrats are to blame.

Who can tell? It is very natural for either to say that the other is to blame, and it is likewise natural for outsiders and soothsayers to say the cause rests with both of the parties. The trouble is our people are not working together. Our representatives in Congress are antagonistic to each other and striving for supremacy over the other. As a result they are accomplishing little.

It seems that from congress we can expect nothing, and equally as little from the people. There are hundreds of thousands of sincere and honest men in the country who deeply deplore the present situation and who, on account of the prevailing hard times, indulge in the probable result of the panic. They are constantly giving various expressions to feelings of anxiety and apprehension on one hand, and making suggestions or inquiry on the other as to how prosperity and good times can be restored. No one can doubt that it is necessary for our representatives to pull together and that they should be strongly backed by the people. A divided people can not hope to prosper. We must live in unity and walk hand in hand together. Men should not allow politician personal differences to keep them from doing right, but remember all are striving to reach the same goal. Why not stand together?

We have too much politics and too little business. Too much politics hurts worse than none at all. For the situation, who is responsible? Not I, says Mr. Democrat. Not I, cries Mr. Republican.

Then who is?—Richmond Pantograph.

FOR SALE.—About 500,000 feet of pine and poplar timber near the mouth of Swift's creek and about one mile from

Red river. For terms see

10 S. Howe, Campion, Ky.

FRAID O' SQUATTERS.

Said to Be Dangerous to Take Depositions in Breathitt County.

An interesting case was recently tried before Judge Barr, of the Federal circuit court, this morning in a remarkable motion made by Barry South, one of the defendants. He filed affidavits stating that it was dangerous to take depositions of certain witnesses at their homes in Breathitt county, and asked an order of court authorizing it to be done at Jackson, the county seat.

The case is the most remarkable one. Long before the war the Hon. Jerry South, who for years was a king-boss in Kentucky politics and lessor of the Frankfort penitentiary, bought, along with Judge Breck, an immense tract of land in Breathitt county. The purchase price was trifling, as the land for years was considered practically valueless. No attention was paid to it by the owners, and it was taken possession of by squatters, who built houses and eked out a bare existence.

When Jerry South died the Breathitt county lands were a part of the large estate which he left his heirs. The land, it was later found, covered cannel coal fields, and as facilities for transportation improved the squatters not only operated mines, but filled the valuable timber.

In the meantime Judge Breck had disposed of his part of the property, but the land was never divided and N. C.

Morse and others who inherited it from the purchasers brought suit for a partition, the South heirs, of which there are several branches, became involved in litigation, and now it would be hard to accurately define the legal status of the many suits.

To bring the cases to trial in the Federal court at Frankfort, to which they were assigned, it is necessary to secure depositions of a number of squatters and other witnesses who reside on the land.

These people, it is represented by Barry South, are lawless and desperate and it would be as much as his life is worth to make the attempt to invade the neighborhood. The leader of the squatters is Bill Strong, one of the most notorious men in the state, so Mr. South says.

Strong is a sort of feudal hero, exercising over his own neighbors a greater power than ever did landed baron in the days of night-ocracy. He was one of the leading spirits in the noted feud between the Strong Little faction on one side and the Burnett faction on the other, in which, it will be remembered, Judge Burnett was killed, and to suppress which the Louisville Legion was sent to the mountains. So much feared is Strong that on one occasion when his son was arrested for some offense nobody had temerity enough to try him. Bill has been a terror to Government officers, and it was his followers who a few years ago planned to burn General Deputy Collector Spurrier alive for having made some seizures of illicit stills in the neighborhood.

Mr. South, in his statements to Judge Barr, said that the Souths had never for the past twenty years dared to visit the property, and that in order to have the property cared for a receiver had been asked for and had been appointed by the county court. This receiver was Prof. Goff, a prominent educator of Jackson.

Mr. South's statements as to the danger which attends the efforts to take depositions in Breathitt were supported by affidavits from several persons, among them Prof. Goff, Mr. J. B. Markham, United States Commissioner at Frankfort, and a representative of the Moon interests, contended that there would be no danger, and that no demonstration had ever been made by any of the witnesses. Each South and Markham was placed on the stand and catechized by the other, but the verbal passages at arms became so tart that Judge Barr took the examination into his own hands.

He finally granted Mr. South's motion taking occasion to say that he was ex-

WHEN IN

LEXINGTON

VISIT

MARCH'S,

24 W. Main Street,

—FOR—

Furniture, CARPETS

AND STOVES.

MONEY SAVED

ON

EVERY ARTICLE.

Extremely sorry to hear that there was any section of Kentucky in which depositions could not be taken without the risk of bodily harm. The depositions will be taken in the circuit court clerk's office at Jackson. An exception is made in the case of one of the witnesses, an old woman, whose physical infirmities will not permit a trip to Jackson. Her deposition will be taken in the vicinity of her home.

Mr. South, who made the motion before Judge Barr, was formerly warden of the Frankfort penitentiary and is a son of Jerry South. The motion was a most unusual one.—Louisville Times, May 2.

AID FOR A NEW ROAD.

Eastern Kentucky Citizens Freely Responding to the Call.

An Ashland (Ky.) special says that R. M. Broas local representative of the syndicate that is to build a railroad to Caney, Morgan county, from some point on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, likely Morehead or Mt. Sterling, has returned from New York and reports all going nicely with the project. On the action of Morgan county and the citizens along the proposed line depends altogether the success of the road. The road will be pushed. Some weeks ago Mr. Broas submitted a proposition to Morgan county at West Liberty by which $25,000, payable in twenty-year bonds, was asked as a help toward the expense of building. A vote on this will be had soon. Rights of way the entire distance have been asked and in most cases granted. Mt. Sterling to gain the road, will raise $25,000, and the salt trade of the county for ten years is to be sole agents for the enterprise. Another eastern land company offers $8,000, while J. M. Pfeatt, a prominent Morgan county merchant, proposes to the people of the county that he will pay the $25,000 asked if they will guarantee him the salt trade of the county for ten years at the present prices.

Must Have Money!

All persons who are indebted to me, either for medical attention or other purposes, are requested to come forward and settle at once, as I must have money or its equivalent within 90 days. Please give this your earliest attention and save further expense. Respectfully,

JOHN A. TAULBEE, M. D.

May 1, 1894.

Lending a Forlorn Hope.

Hon. E. J. Howard, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hoover, of Middleboro, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for congress from the Eleventh district. The district is overwhelmingly Republican, and it looks as if he is leading

taking occasion to say that he was expecting a forlorn hope.

Hazel Green Herald.

SPIRER COOPER, Publisher.

HAZEL GREEN. 111 KY

TO A SCHOOLGIRL

Her smooth head bending low,
She prays with eager joy,
With eyes and hands below,
Over the old tale of Troy.
Dear heart and innocent soul!
There you are growing year,
At my quiet spot beside red,
Bring joy, not tears.

For then I let knowledge spread History's tented page.
Sainted thoughts of ages dead,
The past, the past!
Goes patient science gives,
And learned fancies fine,
To the young girl which lives,
Doubtless, divine.

For then I let music wake
Deep, inarticulate chords,
Which the rapt soul can take
Swifter than any word:
Art, in its secret sanctuaries,
Through gates encircled with flowers,
And fairy dreams beguile
The blindest hours.

But may I not sin?
The heart, regarding eyes;
Still let the morning hymn
And orisons arise.
Leave me now which the mind,
And heart, both, can move;
Still, girl, the treasure find
In faith and love.

—Lewis Morris, in London Queen.

BY A. CONAN DOYLE.

PART II.

CHAPTER VI.—CONTINUED.

"The moment for which I had waited so long had at last come. I had my enemies within my power. Together they could protect each other, but singly they were at my mercy. I did not, however, with due precipitation. My plan was well formed. There is no satisfaction has time to realize who it is that strikes him, and why retribution has come upon him. I had my plans arranged by which I should have the opportunity of making the man who had wronged me understand that he still had found his master. I had planned, two days before a gentleman who had been engaged in looking over some houses in the Brixton road had dropped the key of one of them in my carriage. It was claimed that same evening and returned; but in the interval I had taken a moulding of it, and had a duplicate constructed. By means of this I had access to at least one house in this great city where I could rely upon being free from interruption. How to get Drebber to that house was the difficult problem which I had now to solve.

"We walked down the road and went into one or two liquor-shops, staying for nearly half an hour in the last of them. When we came out I staggered in his steps, and he, without a word, well off. There was a limousin just in front of me, and he hailed it. I followed. It so close that the nose of my house was within a yard of his driver's wheel while we rattled across Waterloo bridge and through miles of streets, until to my astonishment, we found ourselves laid in the terrace in which I had slept. I began to imagine what his intention was in returning there; but I went on and pulled up my cab a hundred yards or so from the house. He entered it and his hansom drove away. Give me a glass of water, if you please. My mouth gets dry with the talking."

I handed him the glass and he drank it down.

"That's better," he said. "Well, I waited for a quarter of an hour or more, when suddenly there came a noise like people struggling inside the house. Next moment the door was flung open and two men appeared, one of whom was Drebber, and the other was a young chap whom I had never seen before. This fellow had Drebber by the collar, and when they came to the head of the steps he gave him a shove and a kick which sent him half across the road. 'You bound!' he cried, shaking his stick at him. 'I'll teach you to insult an honest girl!' I was so hot that I ran outside, and followed them. Drebber with his companion, only that the sun shone brighter, lay down the road as fast as his legs would carry him. He ran as far as the corner, and then, seeing my cab, he hailed me and jumped in. 'Drive me to Halford's private hotel,' said he.

"When I had him fairly inside my cab my heart jumped with fear. I feared least at this last moment my scheme might go wrong. I drove along slowly, weighing in my mind what it was best to do. I might take him right out into the country, and there in some deserted lane have my last interview with him. He had almost decided upon this, when he got into the problem for me. The chance for debt had seized him again, and he ordered me to pull up outside a gin palace. He was in, swearing word that I should wait for him. There he remained until closing-time, and when he came out he was so far gone that I knew the game was in my own hands.

"Don't imagine that I intended to kill him in cold blood. It would only have been cold justice if I had done so, but I could not bring myself to do it. I had long determined that he should have a show for his life if he chose to take advantage of it. Among the many billets which I have filled in America during my wandering life, I was once a janitor and sweep-out of the laboratory at York College. One day the master was keeping on poison, and he showed his students some alkalioid, as he called it, which he had extracted from some South American arrow poison, and which was so powerful that the least grain meant instant death. I spotted the bottle in which this preparation was kept, and when they were all gone, helping to clean up, I took out a fairly good dispense, so I worked this alkalioid into small, soluble pills, and each pill I put in a box with a similar pill made without poison. I determined at the time that, when I had my chance, my gentlemen should each have a draw out of one of these boxes, while I ate the pill that remained. It would give them a shock, but it would not deal less noisy than firing across a handkerchief. From that day I had always my pill-boxes about with me, and the time had now come when I was to die.

"It was nearer one than twelve, and a wild, bleak night, blowing hard and raining in torrents. Drebber said it was out of the question to get within a glair that I could have shouted out from pure exultation. If any of your gentlemen have ever plied for a thing and longed for it during twenty long years, and then suddenly found it within your reach, you would understand my feelings. I lit a cigar and puffed at it to steady myself, but I was hardly too trembling and my temples were throbble with excitement. As I drove, I could see old John Ferrier and sweet Lucy looking at me out of the darkness and smiling at me, just as plain as I see you all in this room. All the way they were ahead of me, on each side of the horse until I pulled up at the Brixton station.

"There was a sound to be seen, nor a sound to be heard except the dripping of the rain. When I looked in at the window I found Drebber all huddled together in a drunken sleep. I shook him by the arm. 'It's time to go out,' I said.

"All right, cubby," said he.

"I suppose the thought had come to the devil that he had mentioned, for he got out without another word and followed me down the garden. I had to walk beside him to keep him steady, for he was still a little top-heavy. When we came to the door I opened it and led him into the front room. I give you my word that, all the way,

"HE GAZED AT ME WITH BLEAKED DRUNKEN EVER A MOMENT."

The father and daughter were walking in front of me.

"It's infernally dark," said he, stamping about.

"Well, we'll have a light," I said, striking a match and putting it to a candle which I had brought with me. "Now, fresh Drebber," I continued, turning to him and holding the light to my own face. "Who am I?" He gazed at me with bleared, drunken eyes for a moment, and then I saw a horror spring up in them and convulse his whole features, which I knew well enough to know he was staggered back with it. It did not last, and I saw the inspiration break out upon his brow, while his teeth chattered. At the sight I leaned my buck against the door and laughed loud and long. I had always known that vengeance would be sweet, but had never hoped for the contentment of soul which now possessed me.

"You don't," I said; "I have hunted you from Salt Lake City to St. Petersburg, and you have always escaped me. Now at last your wanderings have come to an end, for either you or I shall never see to-morrow's sun rise. I shan't still further away as I spoke, and I could see in his face that he was in a fever. He was pale, but not white. The pulses in my temples beat like sledge-hammers, and I believe I would have had a fit of some sort if the blood had not flushed from my nose and relieved me.

"What do you think Lucy Ferrier now?" I cried, looking the door and shouting. "This is the last time I shall have been slave in coming, but it has overtaken you at last. I saw his coward lips tremble as I spoke. He would have begged for his life, but he knew well it was useless.

"Would you murder me? he stammered.

"There is no murder," I answered.

"What talk of murdering a dog?

"What money had you upon your poor darling when you dragged her from her slaughtered father and bore her away to your accursed and shameless harlot?"

"It was not I who broke her father," he cried.

"But it was you who broke her heart," I shrieked, thrusting the box before him. "Let the high God judge between us! Choose who is the greater! I shall take what you leave. Let us see if there is justice upon the earth, or if we are ruled by chance."

"He cowered away with wild cries and prayers for mercy, but I drew my knife and held it to his throat until he had obeyed me. Then I swallowed the ring and left Lucy's marriage ring in front of his eyes. The blow was sharp, but the action of the alkalioid is rapid. A spasm of pain contorted his features; he threw his hands out in front of him, staggered, and then, with a hoarse cry, fell

"HE COWERED AWAY WITH WILD CRIES AND PRAYERS FOR MERCY."

The prisoner wrinkled at my friend joyously. "Tell me all your secrets," he said, "but I don't get other people into trouble. I saw your advertisement, and I thought it might be a plant, or it might be the ring I wanted. My friend volunteered to go and see. I think you'll own he did it smartly."

"There is a doubt of that," said Holmes, shrugging account.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

The prisoner wrinkled at my friend joyously. "Tell me all your secrets," he said, "but I don't get other people into trouble. I saw your advertisement, and I thought it might be a plant, or it might be the ring I wanted. My friend volunteered to go and see. I think you'll own he did it smartly."

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last. "Who was your accomplice who came for the ring which I addressed to you?"

"Non, gentlemen," the inspector remarked gravely, "the forms of the law must be complied with. On Thursday the prisoner will be brought before the magistrates, and your attendance will be required. Until then I will be responsible for him. He rang the bell, and the policeman, Mr. Ferguson, who had followed us to the station, and I made our way out of the station and took a cab back to Baker street.

"There is only one point on which I should like a little more information," Sherlock Holmes said at last

THE HERALD

WENGER COOPER, : : : Editor.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.:
THURSDAY, : May 10, 1894.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Congress.

We are authorized to announce JOSEPH M. KENDALL, of Floyd county, Kentucky, a candidate for Congress from the Tenth Congressional District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce MARCUS L. LITTLE, of Clark county, as a candidate for Congress from the Tenth Congressional District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

For Sheriff.

We are authorized to announce SAM HENRY WILSON as a candidate for Sheriff of Wolfe county, subject only to the will of the people at the polls in November, 1894.

For Justice of the Peace.

We are authorized to announce JAMES H. SEBASTIAN, of Dayboro, as a candidate for Justice of the Peace for the Hazel Green and Lee City Magisterial district, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Primary election, May 26, 1894.

We are authorized to announce R. M. CECIL, of Stillwater, as a candidate for Justice of the Peace for the Holly and Stillwater district, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Primary election, May 26.

We are authorized to announce J. H. WEST, of Gillmore Creek, as a candidate for Justice of the Peace for the Hazel Green and Lee City Magisterial district, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Primary election, May 26.

Dick Tate's Definition.
The surviving sureties on the official bond of ex-Treasurer Dick Tate held a consultation yesterday afternoon and decided to accept the judgment against them for $24,000 rendered by Judge Cantrell, and will pay it off at once, in preference to carrying the case to the court of appeals. This judgment, while small, is the first one in all of the state's litigation with the bondsmen in which it has secured a victory, and encourages the attorneys for the commonwealth to believe that on the same line of policy as followed in this case, they will ultimately win the $62,000 case now pending in the court of appeals, which, if secured, together with the $24,000 to be paid under yesterday's judgment and the $92,000 realized from Tate's assets, would leave only about $70,000 of the defalcation unpaid.—Frankfort cor. Courier-Journal.

Mrs. Maggie Cassity, well known as a tatty trimmer in millinery and an artistic dressmaker, is now with Mrs. Lou Day, of this place, and will be pleased to attend to the wants of any who may need work in either line. Everything new in millinery is being constantly added, including the latest styles in hat and bonnet frames, and they will be trimmed up in any style desired, at the lowest prices. Give a call when in need of anything of the kind.

Blew Went to Breathitt For a Bride.
J. W. Cummins, of Clay City, and Miss Eunice Howard of this county presented themselves at the editor's room last Monday night at 9 o'clock, and received the rights of matrimony at his hands. The groom is a young man of excellent habits, good business qualifications and a successful teacher. The young lady is the daughter of Wilson Howard, of Quicksand creek, where Mr. Cummins has been teaching school. The young people have our best wishes for their happiness and prosperity and our earnest desire is that they may have long lives in which to prepare for a still happier estate.—Jackson Hustler.

Mr. Cummins was formerly a citizen of this place, and taught the public school here for a part of one term. We congratulate him.

The best way to avoid scalp diseases, hair falling out, and premature baldness is to use the best preventive known for that purpose—Hall's Hair Renewer.

Unlocked in Presence of His Parents.
Joel Gay, aged twenty-one years, the only son of Capt. Wreton D. Gay, of Bowen, Powell county, committed suicide on the 2d inst., by shooting himself through the brain with a rifle in the yard of his father's residence in the presence of his father and mother, the former trying to prevent it. Young Joel and his father had been up in Bowen and had returned home a short time before the sad occurrence, and there is no known cause for the crime. This is the second suicide committed in the same village within the past month, the former victim being Newton Garrett, aged nineteen.

ECONOMY Means Wealth.

I dropped into Fred Heintz's yesterday and he showed me through his workshops. Among other things of interest he explained to me the jewelers' method of saving what one would naturally think a complete loss. Attached to the bench where gold and silver filing is done is a shallow pan with a hole in the center which is stopped with a tin cap. The filings and dust fall into the pan, are swept into the cup, and thereby saved. The floor is carefully swept, every piece of machinery is dusted and every particle of dust and piece of litter is put into a barrel and as carefully preserved as the diamonds themselves. When the workmen wash their hands the water is poured into a barrel and saved. At the end of the year the trash and dust and dirty water are sent to a firm of smelters in an eastern city, where the precious metals are separated from them. Sometimes there is an aggregation of gold, silver, iron, brass, etc., in one lump, but by some chemical process these are separated into their proper elements. Mr. Heintz saves over $200 yearly, out of these sweepings. One firm in the east, he told me, got 80,000 ounces of silver last year out of the trash that was shipped to them.—Lexington Transcript.

Mr. Heintz has an ad. in this paper, and you, too, can economize, if you will buy one of those fine fountain pens.

Mrs. Lou Day requests us to say to the ladies of Hazel Green and the surrounding country that she has just opened a full and complete line of millinery, dry goods, notions, ladies' dress goods, etc., which she will sell at the lowest price for cash or produce—butter, lard, chickens, eggs, or anything she can use for the table. She has a nice line of trimmed and untrimmed hats, for spring and summer, which will be added to from time to time, so that the very latest styles can be found here. She also has a fine line of toilet articles.

In the Days of Our Grandmothers
Sulphur and molasses reign supreme in the spring time. Nowadays we take Humphrey's Specific No. 10 for dyspepsia, and all stomach troubles, keeping the blood pure, so that no spring dosing is necessary. For sale by druggists.

You can relieve that headache you have by buying a box of Migraine at THE HERALD office. It will only cost 50 cents and is sold on a positive guarantee.

CURED

"About seven or eight months ago I was attacked by a cough, and at once began to take a medicine much advertised as an expectorant, and continued using it until I had taken about six bottles. Instead of giving me relief, it only increased my trouble, and I sought remedies, but all in vain, and I don't think I had three whole nights' rest during my illness. I began to think that had laid hold of me, and my hopes of recovery were all gone. I was a mere skeleton, but a friend of mine, who had some time away, called on me, and recommended me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and kindly sending me a bottle, I took it, but with little hopes of recovery. I am thankful, however, to say that it cured me, and I am to-day enjoying the best of health."—J. Wilmet Payne, Mouraria, Liberia.

Consumption

AYER'S
Cherry Pectoral
Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Prompt to act, sure to cure

Don't Fall In to the hands of any but reliable people when you are looking for CLOTHING. We are the largest house in Central Kentucky and make a specialty of $7.00 and $10.00 Suits. With every suit for Men we give a guaranteed, lever movement, dust proof, WATCH AND CHAIN FREE. "White Hall," GRAVES, COX & CO.

LEXINGTON, KY.

I want all your Good Butter, and will pay 12 1-2c. a pound for it.

Eggs 8 1-3 cents.

And when you want to get the BEST GOODS for the LEAST MONEY, you will find that I can accommodate you in every particular. I have a large stock to select from, and whether you buy or not I will be pleased to see you every time you come to town.

Wishing your continued good will and patronage, I remain,

Yours to please,
JOHN M. ROSE.

Hazel Green, Ky., Jan. 26, 1894.

Times are hard and I haven't pressed you, but I'd like to have a little money now.

—G.W.R.

Who Is Your Friend?

When this question goes around the Business Circle the answer comes back, "The one who can give the best values for the least money." Having been in the market at a season when the jobbers were cleaning up, I have been able to purchase some rare bargains, which shall be the gain of my customers. Give me your e-mail while I quote you.

Ladies' Chiffon..... 75 ann. up. Men's Heavy Overcoats. $2.00 and up.
Ladies' Coarse Shirts..... 60 " " Men's Heavy Kip Boots..... 2.00 " Men's Fine Shoes..... 1.00 "
Men's Heavy Kip Boots..... 2.00 " Men's Fine Shoes..... 1.00 "

"A Good Call at only 5 cents per yard."

NO TIME TO MAKE GOODS FOR THE MONEY than can be had elsewhere.

Very respectfully, &c.,

G. W. ROBINSON,
CAMPTON, KY.

J. TAYLOR DAY,

Dealer in General Merchandise
on a Cash Basis.

Largest Stock. — Lowest Prices.

LOUIS STIX & CO., WHEN YOU WANT A WATCH!

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

Dry Goods, NOTIONS, Etc.,

Third, Race and Union Sts., CINCINNATI, O.

We carry the goods that will suit your trade and our prices are THE LOWEST. Special attention given to mail orders.

JUDGE AMOS DAVIS, WEST LIBERTY, KY.—WITH—

Bettman Bros. & Co. MANUFACTURERS OF CLOTHING,

50 West Powell Street, CINCINNATI, O.

The trade of Eastern Kentucky merchants is respectively solicited.

T. C. JOHNSON, J. H. SWANGO, Hazel Green.

JOHNSON & SWANGO, ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.

Will practice in the Wolfe county and adjacent courts. Abstracts promptly made and abstracts of title furnished on short notice.

H. B. MAUPIN, WITH D. H. CARPENTER, WHOLESALE DRY GOODS,

NOTIONS, BOOTS, SHOES, &c.

feely CATLETTSBURG, KY.

H. B. MAUPIN, WITH D. H. CARPENTER, WHOLESALE DRY GOODS,

NOTIONS, BOOTS, SHOES, &c.

feely CATLETTSBURG, KY.

W. M. B. LOCAN, WINCHESTER, KY.

Druggist and Bookseller,

WINCHESTER, KY.

Mail orders promptly attended to, and your patronage is desired. Call when in the city.

A. FLOYD BYRD, Campton, Ky.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.

Abstracts of titles furnished, collections made and prompt returns guaranteed. Connected with the law firm of Wood & Day, Mt. Sterling, Ky., All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

A. HOWARD STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,

CAMPTON, KY.,

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and the adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

J. T. MILLER, DEALER IN

Hardware, Iron and Steel,

LEXINGTON, KY.

FOR FINE JOB PRINTING, CALL AT THIS OFFICE.

D. R. J. F. LOCKHART,

DENTIST.

EZEL, KY.

THE GRAND TWO.

EAGLE DRENNON.

This premium saddle stallion will make the season of 1894 at the stable of W. T. Swango, in Hazel Green, Ky., at $0 to $10. INDIAN CO. COLT is a colt which is foaled with, with live on colt nail paid.

EAGLE DRENNON is eight years old and stands 16 hands high, beautiful mane and tail, plenty of style and stamina.

Sired by the famous Blue Jeans 3, 1st dam by the great pacer John Nancy, sired the famous of all horses, the Blue jeans Express, a noted saddle horse; 3d dam by Shabash; 4th dam by Copperbottom. Eagle Drennon is a half brother to Roseo sold for $1000, and a full brother to Roseo, $1200 more. Blue jeans horses have for several years sold higher than any saddle horses in Kentucky. Eagle Drennon can show what he is for himself. His colts are choice in every class of mares. Any mare that can out rack or trot him, bred free. He took two blue ribbons at the Hazel Green fair last year.

Blue Grass Beauty.

This fine young stallion will make the season of 1894 at the same place at $0 to $10. INSURE, money due when colt is foaled or mare is parted with, with him on until season money is paid.

Ladies' Chiffon..... 75 ann. up. Men's Heavy Overcoats. $2.00 and up.
Ladies' Fine Shoes..... 30 " " Men's Fine Shoes..... 1.00 "

"A Good Call at only 5 cents per yard."

NO TIME TO MAKE GOODS FOR THE MONEY than can be had elsewhere.

Very respectfully, &c.,

RAY MOSS.

—G. W. ROBINSON,

CAMPTON, KY.

—LOWE'S

—A premium of $5 will be given for the best colt of either horse shown at the Hazel Green fair in 1895.

March 15, 1894.

—THE YOUNG SPANISH JACK.

—ROSCO

—ROSCO

This premium Jack will make the season of 1894 at my stable in Hazel Green, Ky., at $6 TO INSURE A LIVING COLT, money due when colt is foaled or mare is parted with, for which a bill will be retained on colt until season money is paid.

ROSCO will be 4 years old in June. He is a fine, strong, bold, and hardy animal, well suited for a saddle horse. He was sired by English's Imported Jack, that he paid $1,100 for; his dam Black Bet, was sired by Old Kentucky, and her dam was a good mare, that was sold for $1,500 for; he is by old Bourbon Wilkes, Jr.

Jack will be taken to prevent accidents, but I will not be responsible should they occur. Mares from a distance will be kept on reasonable terms.

W. T. SWANGO.

—ENEMIES THREE.

There are with which the weak person generally has to contend. Work regularly consumes his strength, but often pays for what it takes.

Worry lights the candle at the other end, and never pays at all.

Disease ties his hands and deprives his power of resistance.

Who can number the thousands

OVERCOME BY

this mighty trial? For years we have fought these conquerors of life with our own weapon, the air we breathe, stronger for the combat by the aid of modern science. Our COMPOUND-OXYGEN restores strength, quietes the nerves, expels disease.

Proof that will convince all who are interested free to all who suffer.

Send us your address.

DRA. STAKER & PALEN.

1529 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

130 Sansom St., San Francisco.

—PRINTING

CATALOGUES, MINUTES,

LETTER-HEADS, SPECIMENS OF PAPER,

ENVELOPES,

Anything that can be printed on paper.

—THE HERALD OFF

HAZEL GREEN, KY.

Baby Was Saved.

As the afternoon passenger train was leaving here on Sunday afternoon and just as the engine reached the bridge at the east end of the town the engineer discovered a child on the track near the center of the structure. By a prompt effort the train was stopped, when the little fellow was rescued from his perilous position and taken aboard when the train was backed down opposite to the Clay City hotel and the baby, scarcely old enough to talk, was delivered into the custody of Marshal Joe Johnson. The excitement and curiosity of the incident was in no way lessened when for a considerable time it was impossible to learn whose baby he was. After a canvass of the town, the conclusion was reached that he belonged somewhere up the railroad. Rev. E. W. Marcus lives at a distance of about a half mile beyond the bridge, and upon going in that direction some of the members of the family were not in search of little Edgar, who had evidently attempted to follow his little sister who had gone in that direction to Sunday school. From the appearance of the little fellow, who still wore dresses, he could not have been more than three years old, yet he had gone a distance of half a mile and walked onto the bridge over the high trestle, which forms the approach, and to the middle of the bridge over the center of the river, which is above high water mark, where perhaps becoming frightened he had lain down and was holding on to one of the cross ties for dear life. How he escaped falling through between the ties is a marvel, as he had gone more than one hundred feet to reach the point where he was found, where at nearly every step the space between the timbers would have permitted the passage of his body to say nothing of there being no protection at the sides of the trestle or bridge. Rev. Marcus was away from home at the time and the feelings of the mother at learning of the peril in which her darling had been placed and his almost miraculous escape can better be imagined than described.—Clay City Chronicle.

A Harrodsburg Crank.

A Harrodsburg (Ky.) special says: "Of all the cranks who are allies of Coxey, probably Harrodsburg furnishes the biggest one of all." C. Peter Springer, a Mexican war veteran and an ex-confederate soldier, has gathered together a half-dozen other equally as big cranks and will soon start for Washington to join the commonwealers. They will go by balloon, and Springer claims he can direct his course all right; that he will take charts, compasses, maps, etc., along with him, and provisions enough for six days. They will land as the balloon needs refilling; and take a fresh start until the journey is finished.

Springer has secured an experienced aeronaut, and says he will contribute $1,000 to Coxey on his arrival at Washington.

Springer is the same party who contributed $100 to Madeline Pollard during the progress of the trial recently closed. He and his half-dozen companions are the only ones known here to join the commonwealers. Springer says he will be one of Coxey's aides, and will accomplish what they want or come home a pauper. Springer has affiliated with the Prohibitionists for a number of years.

Friends at Frankfort.

John M. Rice, whose prospective appointment to one of the new clerical positions in the auditor's office was announced in the Capital a few weeks ago, has just arrived here from his home in Louisville. He was married a few days ago in Morgan county, and he and his bride expect to make Frankfort their home. Mr. Rice, who is a son of ex-Congressman Rice, of Lawrence county, is already well known here, having served in the land office for awhile under Col. Tom Corbett. He will assume his duties in the auditor's office at once, and he and his young wife will be appreciated acquisitions to the social circles of the city.—Frankfort Capital.

The above refers to Mr. Rice and bride, now Miss Genie Cockrell, and we are glad to note that they have found friends in Frankfort.

A Remarkable Coincidence.

Samuel Tate called the attention to a fact heretofore unnoticed by the writer, namely, that the first day of May and the 25th of September invariably come upon the same day of the week as does Christmas. He has found this to be true from actual observation for the past twenty-five or thirty years. Can any of our readers mention any other day of which this is true, or give reason for this occurrence.—Somerset Paragon.

P. L. Rose, at Mt. Sterling, is head-quarters in Kentucky for sewing machines and supplies. Write him for prices.

Winchester's Dog License.

The owners of fifty three dogs have paid the required license, and their canine pets are safe for another year. A negro applied to the clerk for a license on his dog. When he was told that it would cost a dollar he became very much excited, claiming that his dog was a very little one, and that as Mr. Landsberg only paid one dollar for his big St. Bernard, his little fay should have the required protection for a great deal less. Mr. Kohlhaas could not make him see it in any other light, and he left declaring that the colored man was being imposed on.—Winchester Democrat.

Continual Success.

Mr. Newell Green, proprietor Lyon stock farm, at Brushton, N. Y., writes as follows: "I have used Quinn's Ointment for strained tendons and other enlargements for the past three years and it works to perfection. I recommend it to all horsemen as it know it is all you advertise." For curles, splints, spasms, windpuffs and all enlargements use Quinn's Ointment the kind that cures. Sent by mail or express prepaid upon receipt of $1.50 per bottle. Address W. R. Eddy & Co., Whitehall, N. Y., unless you can obtain from your druggist. For sale by John M. Rose.

Spencer Cooper and His Paper.

THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD, published by Spencer Cooper, formerly of this city, celebrated its tenth anniversary a week or two ago, and among the good things in its columns on that occasion was a lengthy history of Major H. G. Thomas and the turf kings and queens raised by that gentleman. The article was illustrated with a handsome picture of Mr. Thomas and four of his horses, viz: Hiru, Himyari, the dam of Domino, and a yearling full brother to the unbeaten king.

Aside from the illustrations, etc., the article was a handsome tribute to Major Thomas from his friend, Mr. Cooper, who thinks the major one of the finest men in the world and deserving of all praise for his untiring efforts in producing only a pure strain of racing stock. Mr. Cooper has just added a splendid cylinder press to his outfit, and we shall doubtless see many other enterprising features in his interesting little mountain paper in the near future. He has won success because he deserved it, and his Lexington friends are glad to know that he is prospering so well.—Lexington Leader.

Thanks, Bro. Dickey.

Brother Cooper, of the HAZEL GREEN HERALD, has added a Campbell cylinder press to his office. We congratulate him on his prosperity.

INTERESTING EXTRACTS.

From Correspondents.

The person who owns an Electropoise possesses a treasure of immense value—W. O. Florence, Avens, Ky.

The Electropoise is a quick cure for insomnia, I am much improved in every way. G. M. Phillips, Bradfordsville, Ky.

The physicians will have to adopt the Electropoise in their practice. Dr. A. B. Lore, Bedford, Ky.

We have had good results in curing various ailments with the Electropoise. J. W. Cotton, Bardstown, Ky.

Typhoid fever left me in such a condition that I had despaired of ever getting better, the Electropoise relieved me of all pain first application. I am surely cured by this great remedy. W. T. Richardson, Corbin, Ky.

I cured a young child that I am sure would have died had I not used the Electropoise on it. The result was quick and satisfactory. Mrs. B. H. Pryor, Epperson, Ky.

The Electropoise has never failed in any case that I have tried it and I have tested it severely. Ed. W. Shaukland, Carlisle, Ky.

The Electropoise is worth $100 a day to me. M. S. Crake, Meeting Creek, Ky.

The Electropoise has cured me of Bright's disease after everything else had failed. L. A. Hopson, Hopson, Ky.

My wife had a helpless invalid for sixteen years, when she began treatment with the Electropoise, she now does her own house work and cooking. We never dreamed of anything working such a change. H. B. Woodward, Hardinville, Ky.

Standard and Pocket Electropoise for sale or rent, for particulars, apply to BuDois & Webb, 309 Fourth Avenue, Louisville, Ky.

Spot Cash!

In justice to ourselves, we have adopted the Cash System! And every living creature that buys goods from this date will be required to pay

SPOT-CASH!

We do this because we are driven to it. Those who owe will not pay. When you read this ask yourself the question,

"Do I owe Pieratt & Co. anything?"

And if so, don't wait to be dunned, but come and pay, or in 10 days you will hear it thunder!

Thanking you for past favors, and hoping to merit a good share of your trade, we are, Respectfully,

H. F. PIERATT & CO.

AT THE TOP

And Still Climbing!

Never content to keep company with the slow pace set by its country cousins, though always in sympathy with 'em,

THE HERALD

put its mark at the topmost pinnacle of country journalism, and week after week has labored to reach the goal of its ambition. How thoroughly it has accomplished that task is told in the hundreds of tributes paid it by the press

You can blow your own horn effectively and economically and with dignity

HERALD'S ADVERTISING COLUMNS

is traveling in America, attracted by a perusal of its pages, draws a pen-picture of its multi-merits in his own language, and thus it reaches every home in the vine-clad hills of France. So popular was the story, "Jonathan and His Continent," that it was translated into every tongue spoken by man. Hence, from hemisphere to hemisphere and from pole to pole

THE KEY THAT UNLOCKS THE DOOR OF PROSPERITY IS CONSTANT ADVERTISING IN THE HERALD

THE HERALD

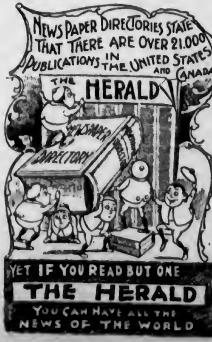

of Hazel Green is a household word. Thus it is also a necessity to the wide-awake business man, and all who desire to "tickle trade that they may fill their coffers with cash," have their advertisements displayed in its columns from time to time. We might go on and tell of other qualities it possesses, but modesty forbids. Suffice to say it is to newspaperdom what DOMINO is to the turf-world—KING BEE OF ITS CLASS!

A few more subscriptions will be taken at $1 a year, and a limited number of advertisements at reasonable rates.

SPENCER COOPER,
Hazel Green, Ky.

THE HERALD

Mrs. Lou Day requests us to say that she has a supply of oranges, lemons, etc., which she is selling cheap.

Mrs. Heiskell Sally, living near town, and who has heretofore been reported as quite ill, is still in a critical condition.

As will be seen in another part of this paper, the choice of the people for congressman is to be determined by a primary election.

Examining the date after your name on the margin of this paper, and if behind send us $1 at once, for which we will be quite thankful.

Misses Rachel Nickell and Lizzie Pieratt, of Ezel, visited friends here Tuesday and took in the entertainment at the academy that evening.

The directors of the Hazel Green fair association are requested to meet Saturday, May 12, 1894.

H. F. PIERATT, President.

Elder J. T. Pieratt will preach at the John Rose school house on Lacy creek on Sunday morning, and at the Frank Johnson school house in the afternoon.

Elder F. M. Tinder, of Maysick, arrived here on Tuesday night, and on Wednesday night began a protracted meeting in the Christian church at this place.

THE HERALD office now has more printers' stationery than any other similar establishment in Eastern Kentucky, and if you want printing of any kind this is the place to get it.

Died, on Monday, a child of Will Edwards, aged one year. The child was adopted by its grandfather, Wash Edwards, on the death of its mother, and is buried at his house of an absence of the dead.

"So Clean" is the finest pure white soap ever introduced here. It is better than Cashmere Bouquet for the toilet, superior to Ivory for fine laundry, and ahead of Sapolio for the kitchen. One cake, 10¢; 2 for 15¢; 4 for 25¢. Sold at the drug store only.

Quint Daniel, of Ezel, was the guest of his brother-in-law, F. McGuire, of this place on Tuesday night, and when asked the news, replied that the Ezel mill company, is now prepared to do wool carding in the best manner. He had a nice lot of bales printed, which were for particulars.

Have bought that wagon you have been talking about for the last 6 months? If not, call and see me when you come to Mt. Sterling, and I will sell you the Mitchell, the best wagon on wheels in the world, and no Ferris wheel about it either. Respectfully,

ED. MITCHELL, Mt. Sterling.

Miss Ross Trimble, who has been quite ill for several days past, and apparently hovering between life and death for the last few days, was on Wednesday morning reported to be better. Miss Trimble is a great favorite with every one in this community, and her continued severe illness is quite a shock to them.

That suit you now have on is just a little bit ready for Sunday wear, and it costs so little to have a new one that you ought to invest at once. When you come down to Mt. Sterling drop in and see how cheap we are selling a real nice suit. Why, you can get something real nobby for $12. Come and see us.

SHARP, TRIMBLE & DENTON.

The court house at Campion, or rather the offices in the court house, are now provided with elegant desks, tables, etc. They are all new and first class, and came from March's furniture store, in Lexington. See his adv. in this paper, and when you want anything in his line go down and see him, or write to him for prices. Joseph C. Lykins, esq., made the purchases for Wolfe county, and deserves great credit for the bargains he secured.

Read the new advertisement, "New Millinery Store, 49 North Broadway, Lexington, Ky." This house is under the management of Mrs. Maggie Howard, well and favorably known to the ladies of this section as a tasty trattoria. While in Lexington recently we visited the new store, and judging from the preparations then going on, we are satisfied that it is one of the most complete establishments in that city. We were then told that Mrs. Howard would put in a new, fresh stock of the latest fashions in millinery, and the receipt of her advertisement this week convinced us that she is now prepared to exhibit as nice a line of goods as can be found anywhere. When you go to Lexington do not fail to call. The location is in the Opera house block.

We are under many obligations to the gentlemen named below for their timely assistance in unloading and housing our new press. The roll of honor is: H. C. Hard, James Lacy, Dr. John Taubine, Arbury Brooks, Mitch Campbell, Howard and Richmond DeBusk, John M. Rose, Curtis Pieratt, Dick Ford, Jerry Elam, Bob Teets, and others whose names have possibly escaped us. And, if it ever comes in your way to render any of them a similar service they may call at night.

The entertainment at the academy on Tuesday evening last was a pronounced success in every particular. Mr. Swango and Miss Robertson acquitted themselves with honor, and demonstrated beyond a doubt that in elocution and music, respectively, they are masters. All of the pupils who participated did equally well considering their practice, and altogether the affair was an enjoyable one. Mr. Swango's speech was well delivered and received many bursts of applause.

You will want a mower or reaper and binder, and before you make a purchase in that line call and see me under Open House, Mt. Sterling, Ky., where you will also find a full line of hardware and agricultural implements. Also, the best fertilizer for tobacco ever used anywhere. Respectfully,

W. W. REED.

Caroline, the five-year old daughter of Mr. Powell Brew, of Frozen creek, Breathitt county, died on Thursday last, of intermittent fever. The parents have the sympathy of the whole community in this hour of bereavement.

Academy Notes.

Rev. F. M. Tinder is at the Home. S. J. Hill is at home this week with sore eyes.

W. B. Allen spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents at Lykins.

Quite a crowd greeted the participants in the entertainment on Tuesday evening. Mr. Q. C. Daniels and wife, of Ezel, were at the entertainment Tuesday night.

The "Plutocrat" captivated the audience, and all were glad to hear Mr. James H. Swango.

Misses Lizzie Pieratt and Rachel Neely, of Ezel, attended the recital on Tuesday night.

Montgomery county was represented by three young ladies, in the exercises on Tuesday evening.

M. P. Williams, of Covington, was a guest of G. A. Williams and E. W. McKinney on Tuesday.

J. R. DeBusk can appreciate the selection he recited Tuesday, for its "nothing to do but work," etc.

The change in the daily session is well liked by all. From 7 a. m. till 1 p. m., and from 2 p. m. till 5 p. m.

Shiloh Swango, Henry Murphy and Miss Lou Maxey spent from Friday till Sunday with their parents near Maytown.

Quite a number of persons came in Tuesday night from the neighborhoods of Daybreak, Lacy creek, Gillmore and Grassy.

The best of order prevailed at the last public gathering. No complaint except too much tobacco spit on the floor. Away with the weed!

The boarders at the Home will occupy the seats in front of the store, on the left of the aisle at the Christian church each evening during the meeting now in progress.

A Kendall club for the purpose of promoting the interests of Hon. Jo M. Kendall for congress, is being organized at the academy. It has a good membership, and has representatives from six counties. Mr. Kendall will address the club in the near future.

ACADEMIE.

Samuels & King, Mt. Sterling, is the place for the ladies to get fine dress goods and trimmings, and they can always find the very latest in fashion and the newest in price. When you go down to this city call and see them, or if you are not going just now and "habby" is, why just get him to buy you that nice dress pattern he promised you. It is a beauty.

WOLFE COUNTY NEWS.

Lee City Locals.

Married, on Sunday, May 6, Mr. Robt. Dunn to Miss Elizabeth Marshall, Rev. J. T. Pieratt officiating.

Married, on Sunday, April 19, Mr. Thos. Helton to Miss Lizzie Elam, Rev. W. S. Maddox officiating.

W. H. DeBusk, Arberry Brooks, Wm. Wilson and Richard Hoard, of Hazel Green, paid our town a visit last Sunday.

A. M. Nickell and family left here on Wednesday last to visit friends and relatives in Prestonsburg, Floyd county, and arrived at their destination the same day. Mr. Nickell returned home Sunday, but his family will likely remain several weeks.

Rev. J. T. Pieratt preached two excellent sermons at the Christian church last Sunday, to large and appreciative audiences. Bro. Pieratt is quite a favorite with the people of Lee City; they like to hear him preach, and are glad to see him come.

There is another wedding on foot, all the preliminaries have been arranged, the license has been obtained, but the nuptial day has not yet been fixed. Mr. William Stamper and Miss Alice Burton are the high contracting parties. These people up here will marry despite the hard times. It may be possible that it is a matter of absolute necessity for the young men—they have to live, you know.

AND.

MORGAN COUNTY NEWS.

Maytown Massacre.

Elder J. T. Pieratt, of your town, will preach at Maytown the third Sunday, morning and afternoon.

I. W. Rose has sold his town property to Mr. Reynolds, and will move to West Liberty soon. We are sorry to lose Mr. Rose from our town, but must submit to the powers that be.

J. B. Cecil, of Ezel, celebrated his 35th birthday last Saturday, 6th inst., by inviting his relatives to just such a birthday dinner as his good wife can get up. There was nothing lacking on that table to make each and every one feel that it was good to be there. Your scribbles and his better half were on hand and have been puzzled to know who would have the next one. Mr. Cecil's mother-in-law, eight brothers in-law, six sisters-in-law, one sister, with uncles, aunts and cousins too numerous to mention were there, and we are sure all did just go to the dinner, if not to themselves.

WINOLESS.

Who says it does not pay to raise mules? Willie Swango was last week offered $150 in cash for a mule, which he refused, but subsequently put it in another mule and sold the two for $205. Mr. Swango has the best Spanish jack in this country (see adv. in this paper), and if you want to raise something that it will bring you money remember that it always pays to breed to the best.

W. W. Fyfe, accompanied by a Mr. Higgins, who is also connected with the house of Sanford, Vanter & Co., Portsmouth, O., was a guest of the Day House Wednesday evening.

Let Caskey is the guest of his brother, W. T. Caskey, and Dr. Taubee is treating his eyes.

Buy your writing paper at this office, two quires for only 15 cents. It is the best. You'll like it.

NEW

MILLINERY

STORE,

Opera House Block,

LEXINGTON, KY.

— 10 —

A new and carefully selected stock of the

LATEST STYLES

and at prices that defy competition.

Come and see us.

Respectfully.

Mrs. MAGGIE HOWARD.

BUY THE

Stempel Fire Extinguisher

— AND —

SAVE YOUR HOUSE FROM FIRE.

CHEAP, SIMPLE, RELIABLE, HANDY.

Insurance may cover actual loss of goods burned but it does not pay for time and trade lost while re-establishing business. PREVENT THE FIRE WITH A STEMPEL

SPENCER COOPER, Hazel Green, Ky., agent for Wolfe and Morgan Counties.

Call and see the Little Wonder.

RACKET STORE,

11, 13 and 15 W. Main Street,
LEXINGTON, KY.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

The largest, cheapest and only Cash Store in Lexington. We want your trade and are prepared to show you the greatest selection of goods in the city. Our large room will be fitted to show the latest fashions, Dry Goods, Nations, etc., while in the third room we carry an immense stock of Gent's Furnishing Goods, Hats, etc. To ascertain with us, we will allow a discount of 5 percent to any customer bringing this advertisement when they deal with us. This for prices in our new change.

J. D. PURCELL.

Begin the Year Right.

Let your first entry be a resolution not to buy until you have seen us for Carpets,

Curtains,
Rugs,
Oil Cloths,
Mattings.

You will run no chance. Things are what they seem.
There will be no disappointments in store for you.

HUGH HICKS, MANAGER,
87 N. Broadway, LEXINGTON, KY.

Ed. MITCHELL,

— DEALER IN —

HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE, TINWARE

And a Full Line of Agricultural Implements.

Mitchell Wagons, Owensesboro Wagons,

McCormick Binders and Mowers,

Whiteley's Solid Steel Binders and Mowers,

Repairs kept in stock for McCormick, Whiteley and Champion Machinery. Granger and Tiger Hay Rakes, Avery and Malta Double Shovel Plows

The Best and Cheapest Cook Stoves and Ranges on the Market.

Queensware at Cut-Throat Prices.

MANTELS AND GRATES.

ED. MITCHELL,

"The Farmers' Friend,"

North Maysville Street, : : Mt. Sterling, Ky.

As it is Springtime of course everyone will want to clean house and must have

A New Carpet or Matting.

Window Shades or House Furnishing Goods.

Such as Bedroom Suits, Cheap Bedstead, Rockers, Pianos, Organs, Bureaus, Tables, Mattress and everything that you can find in a first-class Furniture House. We have the largest line of Carpets in Eastern Kentucky, and our Furniture is the latest and at rock bottom prices. Be sure to call and see us at MASONIC TEMPLE,

SUTTON & SMITH,

Mt. Sterling, Ky.

TRIMBLE BROTHERS,

WHOLESALE : GROCERS.

MT. STERLING, KY.

Dazel Green Herald

SPENCER COOPER, Publisher.

DET. GREEN, 1811 K ST., WASH.

MOVING DAY HINTS.

New Much of the Usual Discomfort May Be Avoided.

As the season for moving and house hunting is soon upon us, it may be worth while to consider ways and means whereby it may be avoided or half its horrors. It has been said, not without justice, that moving day and house-clearing time are the most uncomfortable epochs in the household's life. The masculine portion of the family especially feels their depressing influence. There is no better way to do as to the credit of the message to make everything move as pleasantly as this transition state will allow.

To begin with, if good fortune or daze that you are to move into a new home, or, at any rate, one that is not being vacated as you come into possession, the first step is to have the old ones down and the carpets laid before the cans have started from your former home. It is wise to send the carpets away to a cleaner's and have them returned to the new abode just in time to form the background to the chairs that are to be brought in. When the carpets are down, there does not appear one-half so wildly chaotic, and the feelings to a certain degree are saved by this bit of foresight.

The taking up of carpets necessitates much heavy work, and it is well to hire a man for this purpose, though many men are apt to spend drawing up the tacks themselves. It is best to do not begin at the top of the house, but take the parlor first, as we assure you from actual experience that by the time two rooms are finished such careful drawing of each individual tack will not distinguish the latter to the naked eye that was shown in the first. If you care most for your parlor carpet we implore you draw the tacks there first.

In packing, barrels are of great service for chintz and books, but it is not well to mix these two elements indiscriminately. China by itself, books by themselves is the wiser plan. As far as possible, let the books be packed in such a way that when the unpacking time comes you will not be under the painful necessity of undoing the piano from its covering in order to find the coal scuttle. Be absolutely extravagant in the use of your pencil and mark each and everything as it is done up. Its whining proclivities notwithstanding, who can be more generous than a child? Labeling proves a most delightful means of identification when a host of knobby, heterogeneous paper packages and boxes confront you and you haven't the least idea in which one you put the toasting fork or the baby's bonnet.

Put in a box or trunk those things that will be of service and then do not lose sight of that treasure chest. As soon as you can, get the men folks settled in some cleared space, for unless they are helping the jumble of inanimate objects. A covered van is always the best mode of transport, but it is better to keep it even the contents of Buckingham palace would not look particularly well in an uncovered wagon, to say nothing of the additional safety that is assured by the large, roomy vehicles with padded sides and ruin-proof tops.—Chicago Times.

WHEN THE BELT RAN OFF.

How a Frenetic Western Drummer Seared an Englishman.

"There was a very green Englishman at Little City, Mont., who was talking about purchasing land near by for a horse ranch, and as he strolled around the depot the half-dozed drummers who had come to town to play up a job on him. One of them, however, a coat and hat of a ranchero, took the cartridges out of his revolver, and with the weapon held aloft in his hand he suddenly jumped into the waiting-room and yelled:

"Whoop! I'm a cantankerous old fighter from the headwaters of Fighting River! I'm a hard-fightin' gator! I'm down on everything that walks on two legs, particularly Englishmen. What's the bloody, bloomin' Briton who called me a lass?"

"What's the row about?" inquired the Englishman as came to a halt and faced about.

"Well, I'm at it in there, and keep a graveyard of my own the rest of the time," shouted the terror as he danced around. "Down on you for marrow-bones, and beg my pardon if you want to live two minutes longer."

"Not if I know it!" drawled the Briton, cool as ice, and he squared off and landed a thumper on the drummer's head, which sent the poor soul among the stocks of pots and dried lime so that he couldn't speak for the next five minutes.

We had to hold the "foreigner" to keep him from following up, and when the drummer had been spung off and brought to his seat down on a baggage truck and laid his nose and reflected for a long time.

"When you fellows get through being tickled perhaps you can explain at just what stage of the game the belt ran off."—Detroit Free Press.

Anna, Hannah, Annie and Anna are Hebrew, the gracious one.

A FOOL GOES...

Record of McKinley as Chief Executive of Ohio.

Gov. McKinley's second term as Ohio's chief executive has not passed unimpaired upon his fate from a strict business standpoint. An atmosphere of scandal continues to hang about a number of the state institutions where McKinley office holders have been enjoying their easy places without much regard for public opinion.

The penitentiary in this city is the greatest of the state institutions. Two thousand prisoners are crowded into it, and scarcely a week goes by that some story about its bad management is not whispered about. Chaplin Dudley fell from grace so far as to have very peculiar financial relations with the warden, and was compelled to resign and to step down and out. He was the second of McKinley's appointees in that place to retire in disgrace.

The warden is being attacked for incompetency even by republican papers. Shocking stories of cruel treatment of prisoners are published frequently and are believed to be well founded. So far as this goes, the democratic leader in the house, recently offered a resolution for a special investigation of the penitentiary, but the republicans, after desperate scrambling, succeeded in tabling it being evidently afraid that it might bring into inquiry into the McKinley administration of affairs in the greatest public institution in the state.

DEMOCRATIC RECORD.

One Case in Which Protection Failed to Protect.

Carnegie, Frick & Co. of the Homestead mills, paid the government one hundred and forty thousand dollars for their failure to make armor plates conforming to the specifications of their contract with the government and equal to the highest tests imposed upon them by the naval authorities. The Homestead company resisted the payment of the sum, however, until the government was compelled to make good the government's losses and redeem the obligations it had entered into at the time the contract was made.

The tariff protection in this city is the greatest of the state institutions. Two thousand prisoners are crowded into it, and scarcely a week goes by that some story about its bad management is not whispered about. Chaplin Dudley fell from grace so far as to have very peculiar financial relations with the warden, and was compelled to resign and to step down and out.

He was the second of McKinley's appointees in that place to retire in disgrace.

The warden is being attacked for incompetency even by republican papers.

Shockingly stories of cruel treatment of prisoners are published frequently and are believed to be well founded.

So far as this goes, the democratic leader in the house, recently offered a resolution for a special investigation of the penitentiary, but the republicans, after desperate scrambling, succeeded in tabling it being evidently afraid that it might bring into inquiry into the McKinley administration of affairs in the greatest public institution in the state.

Sounds of Instruments for Calmness That Calm the Nerves.

is mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering the body. Such articles as the following should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will inflict on the body can hardly derive from them. Hail's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains iodine, camphor, and various internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hail's Catarrh Cure, get the genuine, taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., Hail's Family Pills, price 75c per bottle.

Hail's Family Pills, 25 cents.

"Hail—Do you always pay as you go?" Freshby—"Always." "Noah—'Why?' Freshby—"Because they won't let me go with me."—Brooklyn Life.

Frightful Phantoms.

Haunt the dreams of the nightfrighted. Dismay the mind with a start, fear, cost, costing from the pores, sleep for the remainder of the night seems unattainable. Swallow a single tablet of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and the phantoms will be banished, the bed quiet, when it takes before going to bed, will insure repose. The Bitters for nervousness, dyspepsia, rheumatism, materia.

The guy who is learning to skate generally gets a number of bad marks before his lesson is through.

Arbitrary Justice Stories.

An illustrated book summarized by advertising, containing stories and anecdotes by Abraham Lincoln, many heretofore unpublished, will be sent free to every person who sends a stamped envelope to the Lincoln Ten Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Or all the things in the world that are "better late than never," going to bed certainly ranks first.

If you want to be cured of a toothache, Hail's Honey or Horned Lizard, Dr. Pike's Toothache Drop Cure in one minute.

One swallow does not make a summer, but often takes the overcast of a man's buck.

—Inter Ocean.

Capt. Thomas Crane
Beach Haven, N.J.

Eighteen Years

A Seafaring Man Suffers from Impure Blood

Pelagonous Taint Expelled and Health Impaired by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass., manufacturers of Hood's Sarsaparilla, I wish to thank you for sending me Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has done for me what I have been troubled with.

A Scrofulous Sore

for about eighteen years. For the past year the pores of my skin were open, spreading through my system, and pores have broke out all over my body. I tried many kinds of medicine and nothing.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

ing old me any good until I began to try a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I continued with it regularly and have taken four bottles. I am, and sound again. 25 years of life. Several of my friends noting the benefit Hood's Sarsaparilla has been to me are now taking it with good results. I shall gladly recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all who are suffering from it."—Capt. THOMAS CRANE, Beach Haven, New Jersey.

Hood's Pill

Hood's Pill is the best family cathartic, gentle and effective. Try a box. 25 cents.

THE LAST REMNANT.

THE FINAL RALLY OF MCKINLEYISM—"ON TO WASHINGTON!"—Chicago Herald.

The McKinley management of the deaf and dumb institution in this city has also been discredited. Superintendent Clark was investigated two months ago at the governor's direction by a panel of state and national non-partisan board composed of highly respected gentlemen, and two weeks since a report was submitted to McKinley finding the superintendent incompetent and disqualified by his conduct and qualifications for the position for the place. Among other facts, it was shown that he had reported an average attendance for four months greater than the largest number of pupils enrolled in any single day. This revealed the methods by which superintendent Clark was able in his last annual report to exhibit the lowest per capita cost of maintenance in the history of the institution.

They are still hungry with the McKinley administration which has brought them to book. It is time for Mr. Carnegie to write another work on "Triflumphant Democracy."—St. Louis Republic.

PARAGRAPHIC POINTERS.

—The workingmen are asking why they are still hungry with the McKinley administration which has brought them to book. It is time for Mr. Carnegie to write another work on "Triflumphant Democracy."—St. Louis Republic.

—It was somewhat surprising for the republican platform of Rhode Island to class the president of McKinleyism to the people of that state, and to indicate that the protection was instituted by democrats, conducted by democrats and the offender sentenced by a democratic judge.—Detroit Herald.

—The call for a convention of the republican leagues has a familiar sound, especially in the dogmatic declaration that the party is to be reorganized.

—The people will be heard from in due time; and the leagues will probably find that they know their own mind and business much better than the leaders do.—Detroit Free Press.

—A reduction of wages has just been made in the iron works of Cooper, Hewitt, Co., in Trenton, N. J., Mr. McElroy, one of the managers, says in explanation that the reduction was made on account of losses suffered through the business depression, clearly traceable, he declares, to the McKinley bill. "The country could stand almost anything except a McKinley bill," he adds. "Even since the bill was passed wages have increased."

—Scores of critics here do not hesitate to say that if Gov. McKinley gave more attention to state affairs and less to cultivating his presidential ambitions it would be better for the state and for the cause of the poor. One well-informed republican said to the Times correspondent recently:

"I am for McKinley for president in 1896, but I must confess that if he were to show as much lack of executive ability in his second term as he did in his first, I would not be likely to support him again. He is a republican threat to continue the tariff agitation for partisan purposes. It would be better for the country, and for the nation, if he were to be elected."—N. Y. Times.

—The wrath of the McKinley brethren over the latest edition of the tariff bill is fairly entitled to be considered a good recommendation for that measure.—Boston Herald.

The lady whose portrait heads this article, Mrs. Mary E. Covell, of Scotland, Pa.,

H. P. F. C. Co., S. Dak., she writes to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Chief Consulting Physician to the Invictus Hotel and Sanitarium at Indianapolis, as follows: "I have had two years with 'fulling of the womb' and leucorrhoea previous to taking your medicines. I took your Favorite Prescription for three months, and was entirely cured of both in six months. In the four years that month, since I have stopped taking your medicine, I have never had any signs of their reappearance since and I am satisfied the 'Favorite Prescription' has cured my life, for I could not have lived without it. I stopped taking this medicine and I think it is a God's gift to me that I took it.

I was born in 1860, and am the best doctor here in the West. I gave up all hope and made up my mind that I was to be taken away from my husband and all of the time I could not eat anything at all. In one week, after beginning the use of the 'Favorite Prescription,' I could eat anything; I could eat anything and my husband then knew and got me six bottles. I took three of them and my stomach did not bother me any more.

We are now well and got the People's Community Service Medical Association.

My case described just as I was;

we did what the book told us, in every way.

It was not until I was married that I had been well, we still kept on just as the book told us, and in three months I stopped taking medicine, and to-day, I can proudly say I am well, women, yes, am well, strong and healthy.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

I could hardly do my housework, but now I do that and tend a well-grown, healthy baby, help my husband and take care of the house.

When I began to take your medicine my face was pale and eyes looked dull, I could not enjoy myself and I was tired all the time.

</div

MORGAN COUNTY.

A big syndicate is developing the mineral resources of Morgan County. Judge J. W. Perry has just returned from a trip to Morgan county, in Eastern Kentucky. Accompanying the judge on the trip were several members of the Philadelphia and Boston syndicates that has undertaken the development of the coal fields of Morgan county. The syndicate which has purchased the land and which intends to open up the vast resources of the county to the world is backed with a capital of $300,000, ample evidence that the project will not lack for money. Judge Perry is the attorney for the syndicate, and in speaking of the outlook said to a Leader man that the railroad to be built from Morehead to Pinhook, a small town about ten miles beyond West Liberty, had been surveyed and located, and that ground will be broken about June 1. The road will be standard gauge and will be called the Morehead, West Liberty & Pinhook railroad.

When asked whether he didn't think the present stringency in the money market would retard the work, Judge Perry said no. It was true, he added, that a month or so ago the syndicate had experienced a little trouble in securing money, but everything was now arranged so there would be no hitch. The coal field in Morgan county is unquestionably one of the finest in the world, said Judge Perry. In many parts of the fields the coal could be found of a thickness of 36 to 58 inches. Bituminous coal was also found in great quantities.

Fire clay is also found in layers of from eight to ten feet thick. Coal oil has been found in the county, and there are reasons to believe the county will in time produce a great deal of oil. The company also intends to quarry building stone. Some of the finest stone for building purposes in the world is to be found in Morgan county. The forests contain almost inexhaustable quantities of oak, poplar, sugar, walnut, maple, etc.

In speaking of the trip the judge said the people of the county were very anxious for the work to begin. They were very enthusiastic about the county's future and believe that a new era of prosperity would set in very soon. The people, by individual subscription, had raised $20,000 to aid in the building of the road. There will be an election held there some time soon, and it is likely the county will vote an appropriation. If it does, the subscription of the people will not be needed.

The company will put in only the latest improved machinery in the mines. In speaking of the scenery of the country, Judge Perry was very enthusiastic, and said some of it compared favorably with that of Italy and other picturesque countries. Besides the Philadelphia and Boston capitalists, gentlemen of Louisville and Lexington are interested in the project.—Lexington Leader.

It Put It Out Almost Instantly.

Herman B. Wells, president of the Cincinnati Tin and Japan Company, gave an exhibition of the Stetped Fire Extinguisher, on the vacant lot corner of Market and Sycamore streets, last Saturday afternoon, assisted by Mayor Arnold, D. R. Merrill and others. A goodly number of people, from town and country, were in attendance, and highly pleased with the workings of the apparatus. Broken pine boxes were piled up, about twelve feet, and the whole structure saturated with coal oil. Then the torch was applied, and in less time than it takes to say jack rabbit, the entire mass was enveloped in flame, shooting upward fully twenty-five feet. Mr. Wells, with hose in one hand, turned on, with the other, the chemical preparation, which swiftly sprayed into the base of the fire, thus extinguishing the same almost instantly. It is claimed that this machine will accomplish more work, in the same length of time, than any other extinguisher manufactured, and costs three-fourths less money. It ought to be in the hands of every property-owner, in case of an emergency.—Harrison (O.) Democrat, Nov. 10, 1888.

SPENCER COOPER, Hazel Green, Ky., Agent for Wolfe and Morgan counties.

Last $400 on the Railroad.

J. G. Deaton, of Crockettsville, in Breathitt county, recently lost a pocket book containing $400 in currency and some notes and accounts, while en route from Lexington to Jackson on a K. U. train. He offers $50 in cash for its return to him.

A lady at Toolooa, La., was very sick with bilious colic when M. C. Lise, a prominent merchant of the town gave her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. He says she was well in forty minutes after taking the first dose. For sale by John M. Rose.

Hon. M. C. Lise Quoted III at Washington.
A special from Washington says: "Hon. M. C. Lise, of Kentucky, is lying dangerously ill at the Woodmont in this city to-night. A number of his Kentucky friends have called, but were denied admittance, the physicians having ordered that no one except attendants be allowed to enter his room. The chances for his recovery are decidedly against him. His many friends in Kentucky regret this sad intelligence.

The above is from the Washington dispatches to the Courier-Journal of Wednesday. Thursday's paper, however, gives hope that the case is not so bad. It says: "Representative Lise is not quite so ill as he was last night. The treatment he is now undergoing, known as the sweating process, has already had perceptible effect. The doctor senns him three times in twenty-four hours, and after coming out of the bath, Mr. Lise is, of course, much fatigued. Quite a number of friends called to see him this afternoon. They found him in good spirits and good humor. His brother, C. C. Lise, postmaster at Winchester, arrived here this afternoon, and is at the Woodmont. He came on official business connected with the postoffice department. He expects to return tomorrow. Mr. Lise may go with him."

Dr. S. F. Scott, Blue Ridge, Harrison county, Mo., says: "For whooping cough Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is excellent." By using it freely the disease is deprived of all dangerous consequences. There is no danger in giving the remedy to babies, as it contains nothing injurious. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by John M. Rose.

Coinerfeiter Caught.

Wednesday night the police were informed that a stranger had been passing counterfeit money in some of the colored restaurants. In a few minutes the man was found and after a lively chase he was captured and lodged in jail. He at first gave a fictitious name, but it was afterward learned that he was John B. Huston Townsend, a son of the famous "Fighting Bill" Townsend, of Estill county, so well remembered by many of our older readers. A quantity of spurious coin was found in his possession, which he claimed he found under a pile of railroad ties. For many years there has been at various times rumors of counterfeits from that section and occasionally arrests are made. Mr. Townsend bids fair to work for Uncle Sam for a while.—Winchester Democrat.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice with D. E. Carr, of 1235 Harrison street, Kansas City. He is an old sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in this climate. Last winter he went up in Wisconsin, and in consequence had another attack. "It came upon me again very acute and severe," he said. "My joints swelled and became inflamed; sore to touch or almost to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balsm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise, it did both. I have used three fifty cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant." For sale by John M. Rose.

An Old Citizen Visits Us.

John R. Hanks, of Louisiana, stopped over here on Tuesday on his return from a visit to relatives and friends in Wolfe, Meufeuve and Powell counties. Dr. Hanks was born and reared in Wolfe county, in this state, and went to Louisville about eighteen years ago. This is his first visit since 1880. His numerous relatives and friends were much pleased at seeing him again. Dr. Hanks married in the state of Mississippi four years ago. He has been practicing medicine at his present location in St. Laudry's parish, for about nine years.—Clay City Chronicle.

We have received a copy of the Illustrated Electropoise News, published by Dulbo & Webb, Louisville, Ky. It is sent free to any address. Send for it and acquaint yourself with the "wonder-working instrument," called the Electropoise.

Our Congressional Race.

The Frankfort correspondent of the Courier-Journal says: "A number of Tenth district politicians have been here this week, and the reports which they bring concerning the congressional campaign going on up there indicate that it is all over except the shouting. The generally expressed opinion is that young Tom Kendall, of Floyd county, has closed out all of his competitors and virtually has the race won."

Humors of the stomach, sciatic rheum, and blood disorders, are cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

During the entire week, and until the entire lot is closed out, our 14k Solid Gold Fountain Pens go at $1 each, as long as they last. We have one of these pens filled ready for use. Call in and try it.

FRED J. HEINTZ, Manufacturing Jeweler,
Custom House Square, Lexington, Ky.

ENGLISH KITCHEN.

12 W. SHORT STREET, LEXINGTON, KY.

Regular Meals, 25 cents. Meals to order at all hours. Breakfast from 5 to 9 a.m. Dinner from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Supper from 5 to 9 p.m.

Oysters, Lamb Fries, Fish and Chicken a Specialty.

GUS. LUIGART, Proprietor.

COMBS HOUSE, CAMPTON, KY.

J. B. HOLLON, PROPRIETOR.

The patronage of the traveling public is respectfully solicited. Table the best, and every attention to the comfort of guests.

ALLEN HOUSE,

LEE CITY, KY.

The above house is now open to the public and the patronage solicited. Table the best, the country affords, and charges reasonable. Good stable and care of horses. Give me a call. C. B. ALLEN, Proprietor.

ST. JAMES HOTEL,

Fourth Street, near Main, CINCINNATI, O.

GEO. WEBERSON, Manager.
The patronage of Wolfe and Morgan counties solicited.

HOTEL LEANDER, Lexington, Ky.

S. R. BROOKS, Proprietor.

New Building! Gas and Electric Light! Electric Elevator! Heated throughout with Hot Water. $2.50 Rates, $2.00 a Day. Near business center and depot. Come and see us. Respectfully, S. R. BROOKS.

DRY GOODS

— AND — NOTIONS.

If you want new styles and the best goods, at bottom prices, you can always find them at al.

CASSELL & PRICE'S,

16 and 18 West Main Street,

LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY.

MARLIN SAFETY

Made in all sizes and sizes. Lightest, strongest, easiest working, safest, simplest, most accurate, most compact, and most modern. For sale by all dealers in arms. Catalogues mailed free by

The Marlin Fire Arms Co.,
NEW HAVEN, CONN., U. S. A.

RIFLES

THE MILD POWER CURES.

HUMPHREYS'

Dr. Humphreys' Speciales are scientifically and practically prepared. After years in private practice and for over thirty years in the public service, for the benefit of the people with entire success. Every single Specific is a Remedy.

They cure without drugging, purging or reducing the system. They are safe, simple and effective. See our Catalogue for full description of the various Remedies of the World.

LIST OF REMEDIES.

PRICE.

1—Fever.	Common, Inflammation.	25
2—Worms.	Worms, Worms, Worms.	25
3—Toothache.	Toothache, Colds, Crying, Walks.	35
4—Dysentery.	Dysentery, Dysentery.	35
5—Cholera.	Cholera, Cholera.	35
6—Neuritis.	Neuritis, Neuralgia.	35
7—Sciatica.	Sciatica, Sciatica.	35
8—Neuralgia.	Neuralgia, Neuralgia.	35
9—Dyspepsia.	Dyspepsia, Constipation.	35
10—Suppression of Painful Periods.	Painful Periods.	35
11—Croup.	Croup.	35
12—Laryngitis.	Laryngitis.	35
13—Bronchitis.	Bronchitis.	35
14—Malaria.	Malaria.	35
15—Measles.	Measles.	35
16—Diphtheria.	Diphtheria.	35
17—Ophthalmia.	Ophthalmia.	35
18—Hemorrhoids.	Hemorrhoids.	35
19—Nervous.	Nervous.	35
20—Asthma.	Asthma.	35
21—Dysuria.	Dysuria.	35
22—Sciatica.	Sciatica.	35
23—Gout.	Gout.	35
24—Dysentery.	Dysentery.	35
25—Dyspepsia.	Dyspepsia.	35
26—Dysentery.	Dysentery.	35
27—Sciatica.	Sciatica.	35
28—Hemorrhoids.	Hemorrhoids.	35
29—Painful Periods.	Painful Periods.	35
30—Sciatica.	Sciatica.	35
31—Chronic Coughs and Diseases.	Chronic Coughs and Diseases.	35

EXTRA NUMBERS.

PRICE.

1—Nervous Debility.

2—Diseases of the Heart.

3—Diseases of the Liver.

4—Diseases of the Stomach.

5—Diseases of the Bowels.

6—Diseases of the Bladder.

7—Diseases of the Skin.

8—Diseases of the Eyes.

9—Diseases of the Ears.

10—Diseases of the Nose.

11—Diseases of the Mouth.

12—Diseases of the Throat.

13—Diseases of the Chest.

14—Diseases of the Heart.

15—Diseases of the Liver.

16—Diseases of the Stomach.

17—Diseases of the Bowels.

18—Diseases of the Bladder.

19—Diseases of the Skin.

20—Diseases of the Eyes.

21—Diseases of the Ears.

22—Diseases of the Nose.

23—Diseases of the Mouth.

24—Diseases of the Throat.

25—Diseases of the Chest.

26—Diseases of the Heart.

27—Diseases of the Liver.

28—Diseases of the Stomach.

29—Diseases of the Bowels.

30—Diseases of the Bladder.

31—Diseases of the Skin.

32—Diseases of the Eyes.

33—Diseases of the Ears.

34—Diseases of the Nose.

35—Diseases of the Mouth.

36—Diseases of the Throat.

37—Diseases of the Chest.

38—Diseases of the Heart.

39—Diseases of the Liver.

40—Diseases of the Stomach.

41—Diseases of the Bowels.

42—Diseases of the Bladder.

43—Diseases of the Skin.

44—Diseases of the Eyes.

45—Diseases of the Ears.

46—Diseases of the Nose.

47—Diseases of the Mouth.

48—Diseases of the Throat.

49—Diseases of the Chest.

50—Diseases of the Heart.

51—Diseases of the Liver.

52—Diseases of the Stomach.

53—Diseases of the Bowels.

54—Diseases of the Bladder.

55—Diseases of the Skin.

56—Diseases of the Eyes.

57—Diseases of the Ears.

58—Diseases of the Nose.

59—Diseases of the Mouth.

60—Diseases of the Throat.

61—Diseases of the Chest.

62—Diseases of the Heart.

63—Diseases of the Liver.

64—Diseases of the Stomach.

65—Diseases of the Bowels.

66—Diseases of the Bladder.

67—Diseases of the Skin.

68—Diseases of the Eyes.

69—Diseases of the Ears.

70—Diseases of the Nose.

71—Diseases of the Mouth.

72—Diseases of the Throat.

73—Diseases of the Chest.

74—Diseases of the Heart.

75—Diseases of the Liver.

76—Diseases of the Stomach.

77—Diseases of the Bowels.

78—Diseases of the Bladder.

79—Diseases of the Skin.

80—Diseases of the Eyes.

81—Diseases of the Ears.

82—Diseases of the Nose.

83—Diseases of the Mouth.

84—Diseases of the Throat.

85—Diseases of the Chest.

86—Diseases of the Heart.

87—Diseases of the Liver.

88—Diseases of the Stomach.

89—Diseases of the Bowels.

90—Diseases of the Bladder.

91—Diseases of the Skin.

92—Diseases of the Eyes.

93—Diseases of the Ears.

94—Diseases of the Nose.

95—Diseases of the Mouth.

96—Diseases of the Throat.

97—Diseases of the Chest.

98—Diseases of the Heart.

99—Diseases of the Liver.

100—Diseases of the Stomach.

101—Diseases of the Bowels.

102—Diseases of the Bladder.

103—Diseases of the Skin.

104—Diseases of the Eyes.

105—Diseases of the Ears.

106—Diseases of the Nose.

107—Diseases of the Mouth.

108—Diseases of the Throat.

109—Diseases of the Chest.

110—Diseases of the Heart.

111—Diseases of the Liver.

112—Diseases of the Stomach.

113—Diseases of the Bowels.

114—Diseases of the Bladder.

115—Diseases of the Skin.

116—Diseases of the Eyes.

117—Diseases of the Ears.

118—Diseases of the Nose.

119—Diseases of the Mouth.

120—Diseases of the Throat.

121—Diseases of the Chest.

122—Diseases of the Heart.

123—Diseases of the Liver.

124—Diseases of the Stomach.